Involved in a new building project?
Your electric utility has opportunities and financial incentives to improve your buildings' energy efficiency!

- Begin your construction or major remodeling project with energy efficiency in mind
- Reduce energy costs and improve the building's comfort level—and do your part to improve the environment for years to come
- Building an energy-efficient home right from the start is the best answer.

Through the New Home Construction program, the IEEP and your local electric utility offer base rebates from $500 - $1,750, depending on the size of your home. Bonus rebates reward customers for installing premium-efficiency heating and cooling equipment, clothes washers, refrigerators and lighting.
